Additional Information:

Join us to discuss how we can create a movement to address the climate crisis. Our individual voices must work together as a team in order to capture the attention and interest of a broader community.

In order to create the change we need in the time we have, our collective voice is necessary. We must commit ourselves to raising awareness about the facts behind the climate crisis.

We need an all inclusive response to speak out for our children and future generations, highlight the need for an urgent and significant act, and inspire people to get involved in any way possible.

Thursday we will also discuss the need to broadly embrace Fossil Fools Day, (April 1, 2010), as an opportunity to unify and peacefully speak out in defense of clean air.
